THE EIGHTEENTH ANNUAL SCOTTONIAN
PUBLISHED AT
JESUP W SCOTT
HIGH SCHOOL

TOLEDO OHIO

The Theme

THE Scottonian Board has chosen for the theme of the 1931 Scottonian the development of transportation. The stagecoach, the canal, the railroad, the automobile, the lake boat, and the airplane have all had a part in raising our city to its present status as the third transportation center in the United States.

FOREWORD

A freighter with its cargo borne over the Great Lakes enters the harbor of a great city. There this cargo is unloaded, converted into manufactured products, and conveyed by various means of transportation to all parts of the world. In like manner does Scott receive annually a very precious cargo, which it fits for service to all mankind and sends out into every avenue of life.

Dedication

The Jesup W. Scott High School proudly bears the name of a sturdy pioneer who loved the beautiful and who firmly believed in the future growth and development of Toledo. In appreciation of his civic loyalty and interest in education we dedicate the 1931 Scottonian to

Jesup Wakeman Scott

Jesup Wakeman Scott

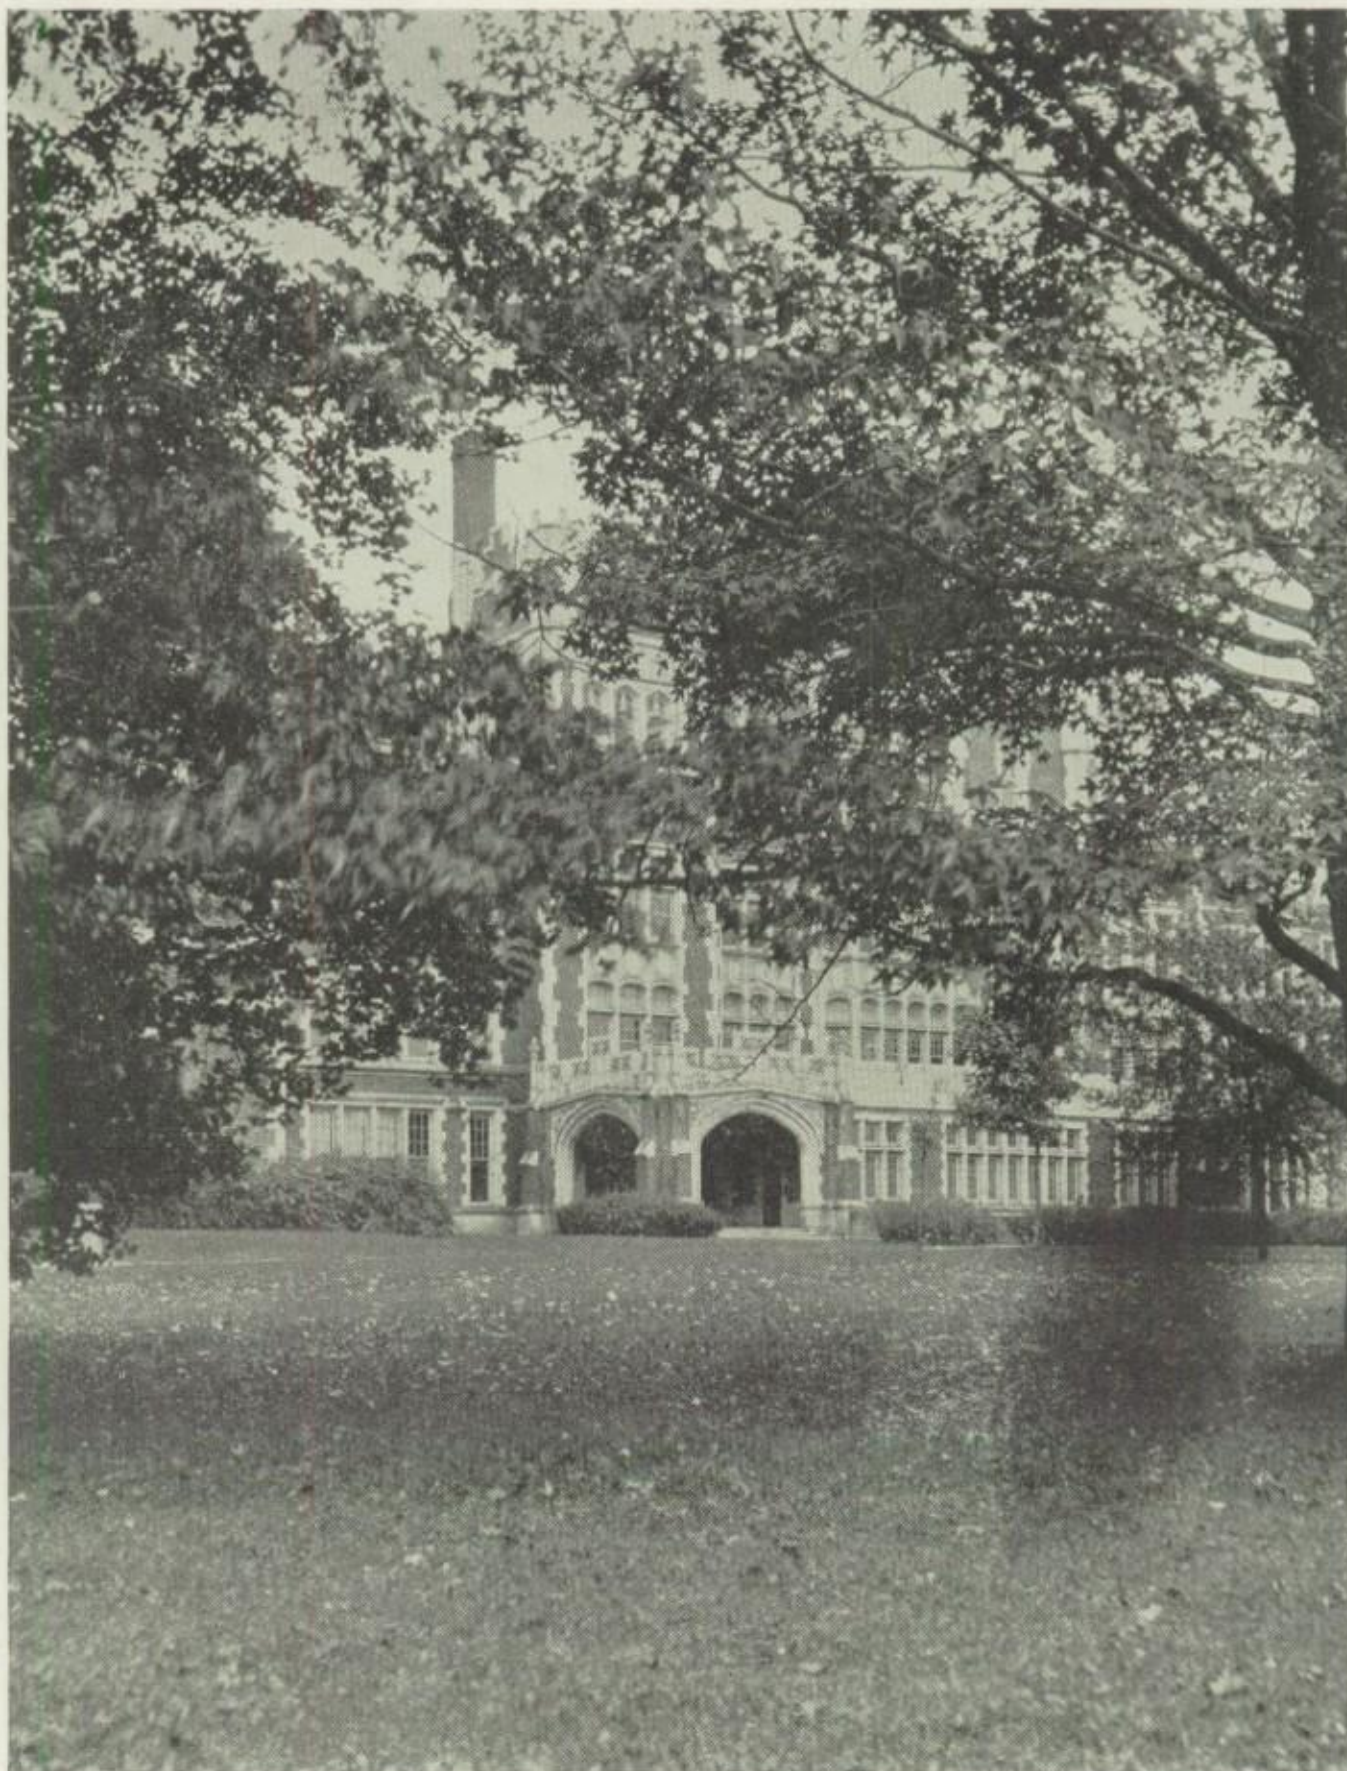

*The sky's crisp aquarelle—
To frame this dignity;
No lesser radiance for this,
Our greeting and departure.*

MARGARET DEMOREST

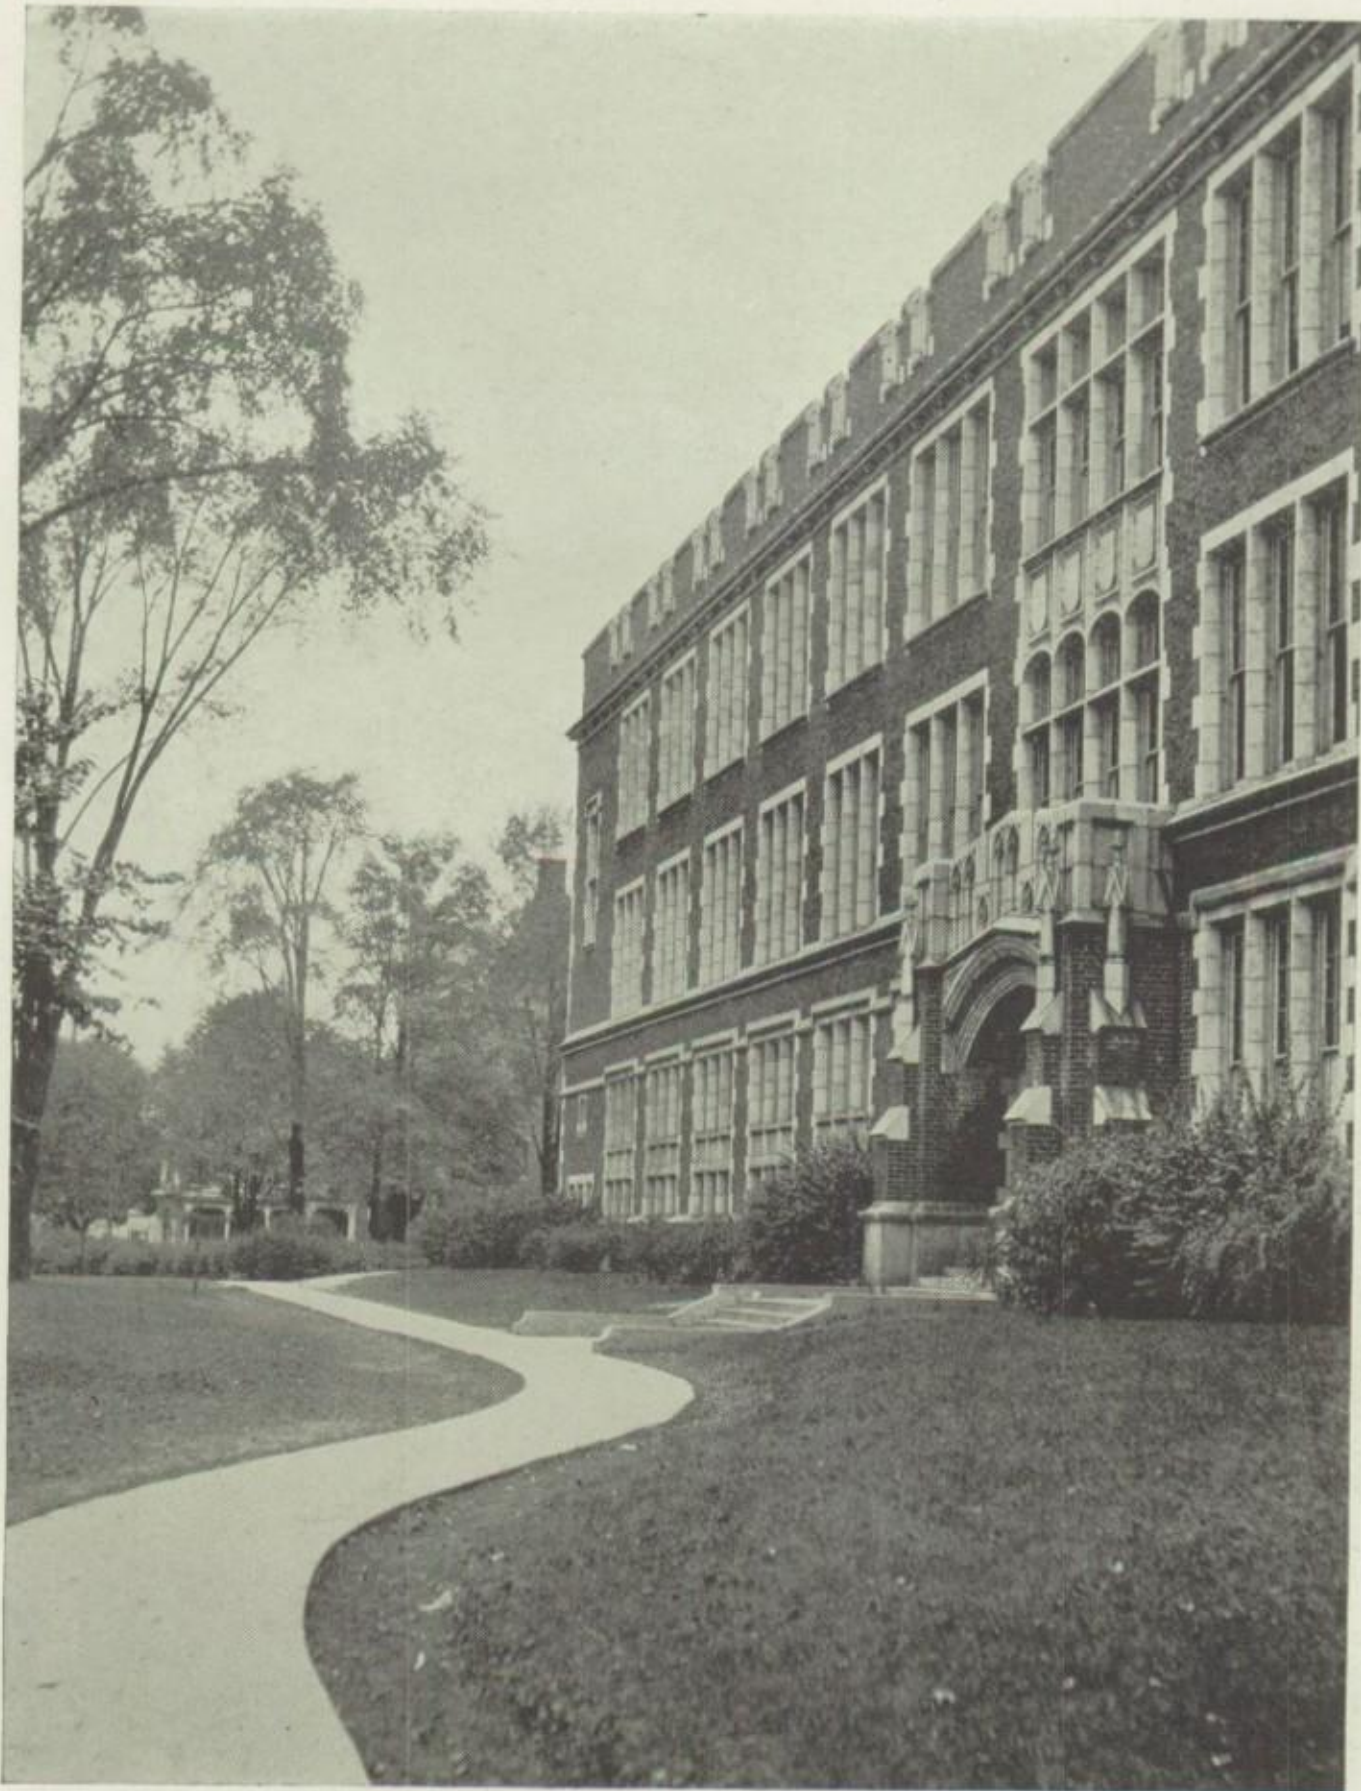

*The last warm laughter and the first bright truth
Lie folded here.
Oh, restless feet that pause,
That pass, and pause again—
These cool dim porches hold your echoing!*

MARGARET DEMOREST

*The dim procession of the drowsy fall
Has taught the very walks to be sedate!*

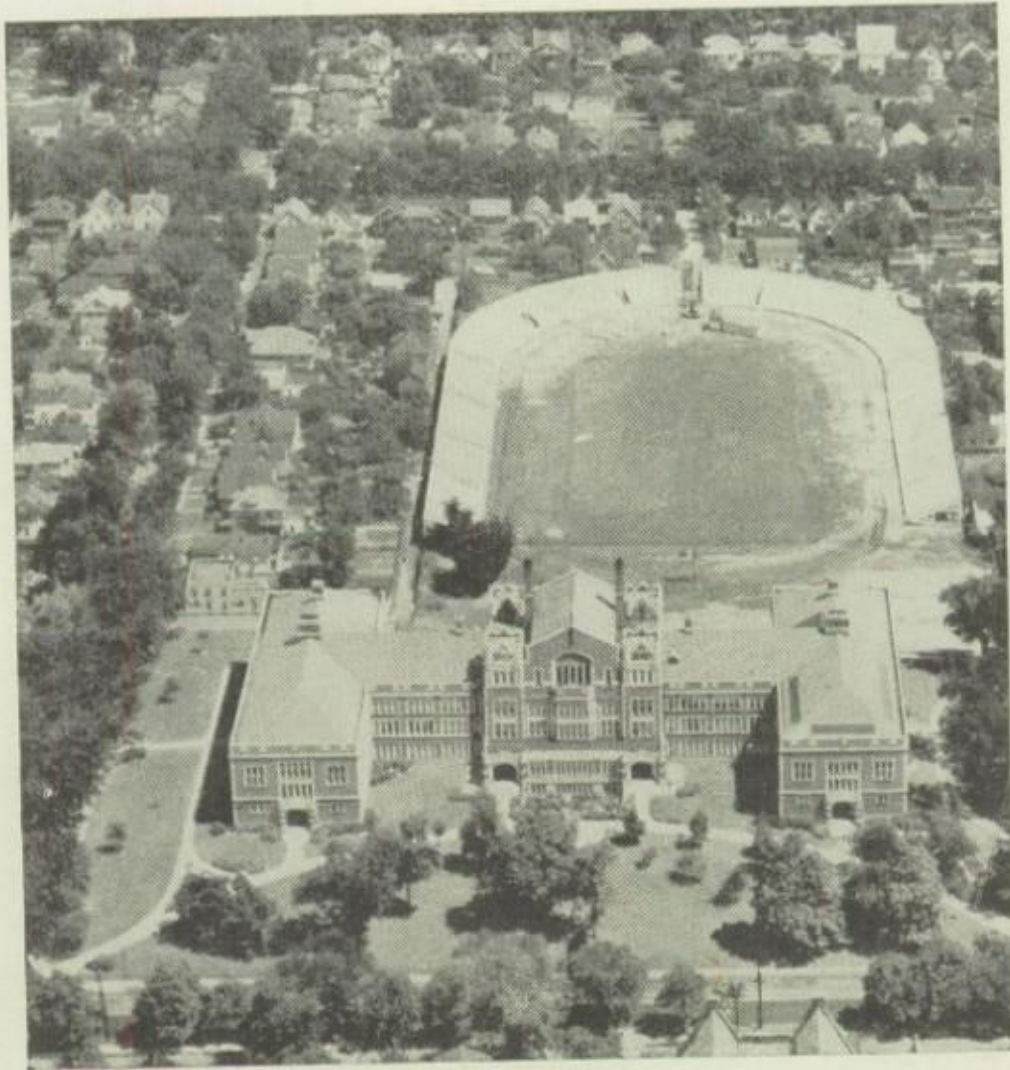

MARGARET DEMOREST

*The green, chill grace of spring-accustomed trees
Has lent a golden chiming to their laughter.*

Scott High Forever!

ADMINISTRATION

An airplane, the most highly developed means of transportation, is silhouetted against the sky. Although it may disappear from sight behind a cloud or beyond the horizon, it still wings its way in flight above the earth.

RALPH H. DEMOREST

PRINCIPAL

The Class of 1931 has the distinction of being the largest class that ever graduated from Scott High School or from any other Toledo high school. But such an honor is a very hollow one if the class is distinguished only for its size. It is my hope that the Class of 1931 may make a big contribution to city, state, and nation by helping to apply the standards that the schools have tried to set up. Scott will have made a fine contribution to the public if her students go out into life with a finer appreciation of the things most worth while and with a determination to assume the leadership necessary to accomplish these high ideals.

That we may all strive together to be more helpful is my earnest hope!

R. H. DEMOREST

JESSIE A. CAUGHEY
ASSISTANT PRINCIPAL

As I regretfully wave farewell to the boys and girls of the Class of 1931, I would leave you with this message:

Find something to live for. Let the power of a great ideal draw you on to great achievement. Develop a dynamic personality that will keep pace with the demands of this modern age of steel and stone. Be loyal and true to right and progress, to your own highest aims, to yourself, your fellowmen, and your God.

The purpose of the Scott Student Council is to promote student interest and school spirit in Scott High School, to afford an opportunity for a greater measure of student control in student affairs, and to promote the general welfare of the school. The president and vice president are elected at large. The two upper classes each elect four representatives, and the two lower classes each elect two representatives. The Student Council has power over all student affairs and governs all school elections. All questions arising within the Council are subject to the approval of the principal.

SENIOR

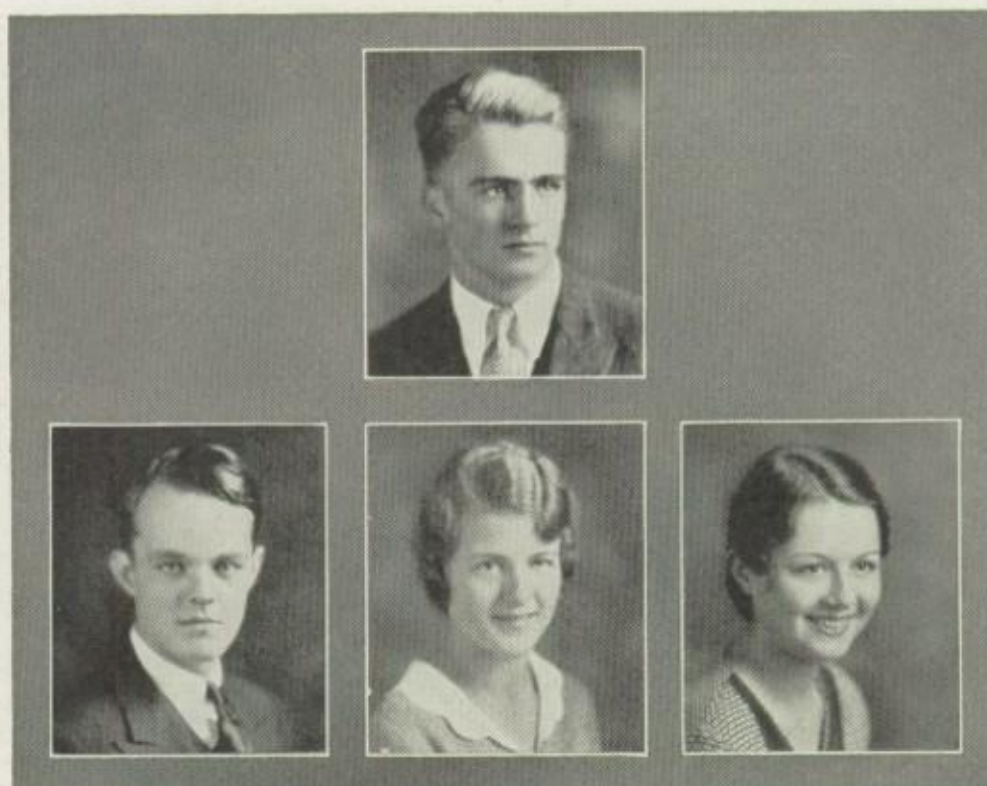

The twentieth century limited, epitome of speed and power, directed by human intelligence and skill, is a highly developed product, which fulfils its destined purpose by rendering useful service.

CLASS POEM

The answers are not new; their echo flings
In bright, swift challenge through the shadowy hall
And silvers out to silence. Though the wings
Of dim, aerial squadrons wheel and fall
And flash across the sun, unheeded, shrill
There whirr the heart's dim engines of unrest,
And through the dust-laid city's complex will
Stirs sharp, young hope and singing, unconfessed.
Ours is the laughter, the recurrent dream;
Beneath our fingers throbs the dynamo,
Before our watching eyes the quick years stream.
Take then, this nameless heritage, and go!

The Class of 1931 takes this opportunity to express to our friend and adviser, Miss O'Brien, our deepest appreciation for her excellent guidance during the past two years.

Under her splendid leadership our junior year was filled with activities, including the famous Senior Farewell Party. We entered our senior year with a large balance in the treasury. The usual administration of the senior class was augmented this year by the Fellowship Committee and the Executive Board, in addition to referendum of all important questions directly to the class. Our senior activities, too, included two new features, the Mid-Year Dance and two large donations to charity.

It is Miss O'Brien who has been responsible for the greater part of these successful achievements. We recognize the heavy burden she has borne and are deeply grateful for the service she has rendered us so willingly and so faithfully.

Senior Farewell

We have completed the required four years in high school and are now going to face the world, some to continue their education, others to go out into life. Scott has prepared us for the tasks and problems that we shall encounter.

Our school has offered us untold advantages. Our work whether scholastic, athletic, or social, regardless of how successful, can never equal what we have received from Scott.

There are those among us who are leaving with a feeling of satisfaction, realizing that they have in some way helped to raise Scott's standards. Again there are those who, too late, unfortunately, discover what their school has really meant to them.

When we entered Scott, we were gradually absorbed by the activities and spirit that so characterize our school. Perhaps the Class of 1931 will become but a vague memory; nevertheless we shall always consider ourselves as belonging to Scott.

It is with sincere regret that we must say—farewell.

JUNIOR

The primitive wood-burning train, forerunner of our great steel monsters, revolutionized transportation. It marked the transition from the use of brute strength to mental astuteness.

Junior Class

HAVING reached the junior class, we made plans for the year, the first one in which we may enjoy the privileges that are permitted only to upper classmen. We chose our officers and our adviser and appointed our committees, and then we were ready to start the year off with a bang and to put all our interest and efforts into our projects.

The Junior Class set a new record for school entertainments with the annual J-Hop, given in the Commodore Perry Ballroom, on the twenty-seventh of February. About two hundred and fifty couples enjoyed the dancing to the peppy music furnished by Ray Humphrey and his orchestra. The comments of many students and the large crowd present testified to the fact that the dance was a huge success, not only socially, but also financially.

May the twenty-ninth, the juniors gave a farewell party for the Senior Class. Favors were given to the seniors. Approximately three hundred couples enjoyed the dancing from nine to twelve.

To Mr. Earle F. Baum, our class adviser, we owe the greatest thanks for his loyal and helpful support in our undertakings.

The Junior Class, which has completed a successful year, is now looking forward to their senior year and hopes they may prove themselves worthy of their position as seniors.

SOPHOMORE

The canal was a powerful link in the chain of transportation connecting the vast inland plains with the Great Lakes. The canal boat made its way lazily and with pauses here and there, ultimately reaching its destination.

Sophomore Class

Sophomores! ! ! At last we have attained that precarious position of superiority where we are above the freshmen and yet are hardly on a level with the upper classmen. Our most longed-for wish has been granted and we are sophomores. Long may our banner wave for having the largest class in Scott for the year of 1931.

The social event of the year was the Sophomore Prom. Several swagger sheiks courageously got dates and allowed their toes to be massacred for a whole evening. Completely horrified and belittled was the couple who overheard two proud mammas exclaim, "My, my, is it possible these children are old enough to go to dances?"

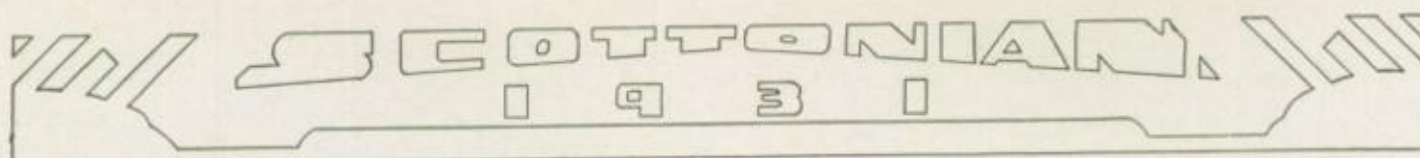

With the help of our ever faithful advisers, Miss Perkins, Mr. Cramer, and Mr. Kirk, a goodly bunch of us managed to pull through the June exams by the skin of our teeth, and when you next hear from this station, it will be J.U.N.I.O.R.S.

FRESHMAN

Through swamp and wilderness, over field and prairie, came the stagecoach, the first means of transportation, primitive and simple, but foreshadowing future greatness.

Freshman Class

ALTHOUGH the number of freshmen at Scott this year has been considerably reduced by the opening of the new Robinson Junior High, the patient supervisors still have the difficult task of keeping track of four hundred and fifteen squirming youngsters. It is Miss Smead who takes the numerous little girls under her protective wing, while Mr. Corbett tries his best to keep the many midget boys out of mischief. Yet these lively freshmen have many possibilities—signs of leadership and initiative. One club has been organized for freshmen boys—the Torch Club of which many of the boys are members. This class has also shown fine school spirit throughout the year in cooperating with the Student Council in all that it has undertaken. We know that if they continue to exhibit this good school spirit as they enter the sophomore realm, as they occupy the dignified position of juniors, and as they rise to the lofty position of the lordly seniors, they'll make one of the best graduating classes that Scott has ever known. Good luck to you, Freshmen.

A yacht, sails set and filled with wind, is cutting the blue water, leaving a white ribbon in its wake.

Which tells us the way to go."*

National Honor Society SCOTT CHAPTER

These eight students form the nucleus of the Scott Chapter of the National Honor Society, which numbers approximately eighty members. It was installed April, 1930, with a membership of sixty-three seniors and ten juniors, chosen by a committee of the faculty for character, scholarship, leadership, and service. Since the members for 1931 have not yet been elected as the Scottonian goes to press, the juniors chosen in 1930 who are still at Scott represent the Honor Society.

DUANE FREESE, President

A leader in every side of student activity—truly a worthy Scotter to be the first president of the Honor Society.

PATTY BOYER, Vice President

Meet the editor of the Scottonian smiling as usual, happy and undisturbed by her many arduous tasks.

PARKER MATTISON, Secretary

A merry and versatile young man who has always been known to accomplish what he sets out to do.

BETTY CRAMER

Such a quiet miss keen on math? Yes, indeed. 'Twas she who brought Scott high honors in that subject in the Oberlin contest last fall.

DOROTHY HILTON

You can always find her busy with many outside activities, but never too busy to smile.

JOHN PARKER

Here is a conscientious student with oh, such a ready twinkle in his eyes.

ROSALIE ROSENBERG

Always an earnest worker for the best interests of Scott.

CELIA ST. CLAIR

A winsome blond, greatly admired for her sunny disposition and her willingness to help put across worthy projects.

The art work of the 1931 Scottonian was executed entirely by students in the art classes under the direction of Miss Morgan and Mrs. Dean. The cover, the running head, and the dedication page were designed by Kenneth Nissen; the division pages were planned and cut on rubber plates for reproduction in water color, by Eleanor Bennett, Newell Hoffner, Ruth Laycock, Nola Loveland, Osborn Rosevear, Virginia Williamson, and George Zimmer; the lettering on the title page was done by Newell Hoffner; and the subdivision page for athletics was designed by Osborn Rosevear.

The lettering on the large panels was done by Mr. George Dunn, head of the Department of Industrial Arts.

The band at Scott High School has on many occasions proved its worth by its faithful service at every football and basketball game throughout the year. Due to graduation it lost many of its oldest and best players, and in the fall it included many beginners. However, daily marching practice on the field soon developed the new members into seasoned players, and many were the favorable comments heard on the appearance, marching ability, and all around excellence of Scott's band. This same band now boasts a number of soloists and appeared in concert on the night of May 1.

Under the capable leadership of Mr. Sutphen it has made wonderful progress this year.

Our orchestra of sixty musicians has just completed a very successful year under the able baton of Miss Bessie Werum. We of the orchestra feel that we have gained much in the knowledge of music and have enjoyed playing under Miss Werum.

We first accompanied the Glee Club in their presentation of the operetta entitled "Pickles". On January ninth, we gave our annual concert and the following Sunday played at the Art Museum. We again accompanied the Glee Club on March sixth in "The Gypsy Prince." April nineteenth the combined orchestras of the city high schools played for a capacity crowd at the Civic Auditorium. On May fourth, we played for the Rotary Club.

Edwin Strong, well-known around school for his xylophone playing, was concert-master and president of the orchestra for this year.

AMONG the activities of the Glee Club this year were three outstanding operettas. "Pickles", the first one presented, was the record project for the year. On March 7, 1931 the club successfully gave "The Gypsy Prince," the most difficult operetta tried by any high school. The last one was "Peggy, the Pirate" given May 22, 1931. This is a modern operetta in which the hero attempts to win the love of his fair lady by assuming the role of a bold buccaneer.

The Glee Club also presented a ten-cent mass-meeting under the direction of Mr. Clarence Ball. Proceeds were used to buy a new back-drop for the auditorium stage.

The Whole Town's Talking

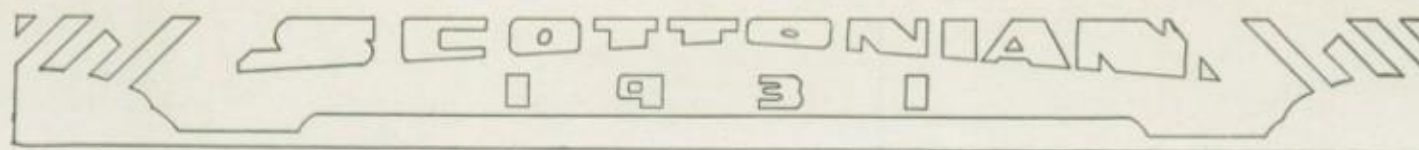

The first play of the year, "The Whole Town's Talking," was presented in the Scott Auditorium, December 12 and 13, under the auspices of the Scottonian Board and the Social Science Department.

A bachelor in a small town falls in love with his partner's daughter. In an effort to seem a man of the world, he becomes involved with a movie actress and sets the whole town talking. The situation is further complicated by her father who is promoting the love affair and incidentally has some "dancing lessons" of his own to conceal. A fight in the dark clears the air and brings about a happy ending for all.

It Won't Be Long Now

On February 19 and 20, the second play of the year, "It Won't Be Long Now," was presented under the direction of Eugene Miller. This play was the first offering under a new plan which will place all proceeds from plays into a common fund.

The theme centers around a hard-going business man who believes that one cannot mix business and sentiment. In order to cure him of this attitude, a scheme was formed which made him think that he had only twenty-four hours to live. In the final scene he has become a man of new ideas.

Scott Library

The efficiency of Scott Library has been greatly improved during the past year, and it has become a real library, a laboratory for study and research for an increasingly great number of students.

The new system of library passes, the library instruction given to nineteen hundred students at the beginning of the year, and the instruction given in the use of the Readers' Guide and other reference books have been of advantage in teaching the students how to help themselves and how to use this storehouse of valuable information.

During the past two years thirteen new tables and twenty-two sections of shelving have been installed in the library. Through the gifts of the Library Association and the Book Exchange a new loan desk has been made possible.

The library has subscribed to many more magazines than ever before, all of which may be taken out overnight. The Dictionary of American Biography is being placed in the library as a memorial to Miss Ada Ritchie, a former Scott teacher and librarian. The number of books in the library is in excess of seven thousand.

The result of the increased equipment and of the knowledge of the benefits to be derived from the proper use of the library is to be seen in the increased library attendance and in the circulation of books, which is greater than in any year in the history of the library, the circulation of the books of science and literature being twice that of any previous year.

Athletics

Mr. Meissner's message to the student body takes the form of the following quotations, which he selected and which express his ideas about the importance of athletics as a training for life and the necessity for its control.

"Education should begin with the right direction of children's sports. The plays of childhood have a great deal to do with the maintenance or non-maintenance of laws."
—Plato

"The mere athlete becomes too much of a savage, and the mere musician is melted and softened beyond what is good for him. The two should therefore be blended in right proportions."—Plato

"Inasmuch as the Physical Education activities represented by the games of childhood constitute one of the chief sources of 'joy', these activities become a definite objective in education."—J. R. Nash, Physical Director, New York University

"Life is not always play. Why then should we expect to eliminate all work from athletics? The answer is that we should not, if we think of athletics as training for life."
Major John L. Griffith, Athletic Commissioner Western Conference

Varsity Football

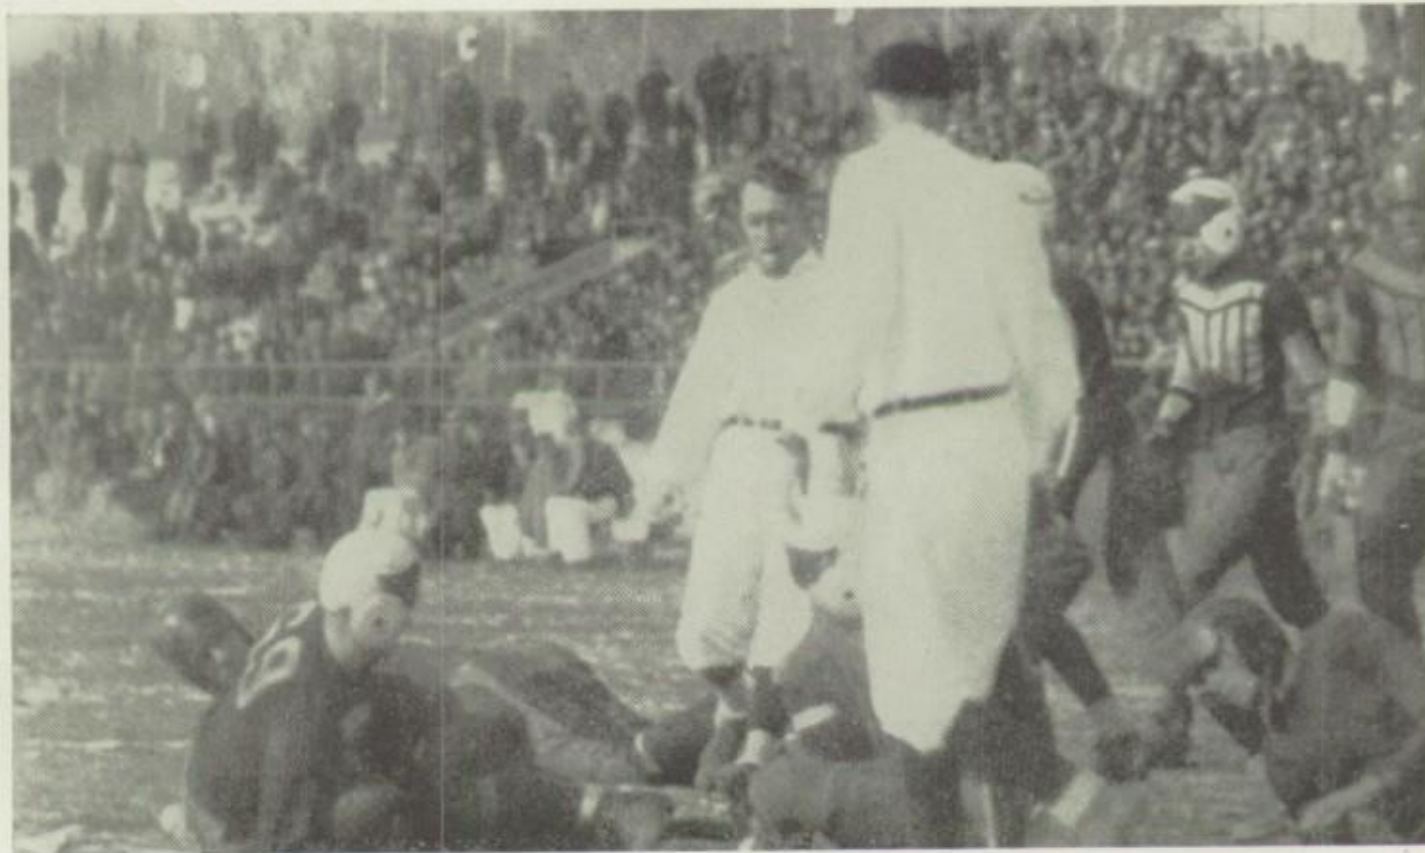

Scott High School's 1930 football season was fairly successful inasmuch as the team finished their city schedule in second place, paced only by Libbey, who handed them a 26 to 0 defeat. Scott started the season with the return of only one regular, "Scotty" Florence, but soon developed a wonderful running attack under the guidance of Coaches Aiken and Rettig. The team displayed fine spirit and cooperation under the able direction of Captain Florence who ran the team as only a veteran quarterback can. The schedule was one of the hardest ever undertaken. After an easy first game with Hudson our team met and defeated St. John's, Woodward, and Central. These three games were hard fought battles and Scott won by only close margins. The following Saturday the team lost to Libbey. Although Dayton Stivers was outplayed the entire game, the Scott eleven lost, because of bad "breaks." Not discouraged nor disheartened after these two successive defeats the Scotters rallied with three well earned victories in the final games of the season. After defeating Cleveland Glenville and Chicago Carl Schurz, the team trounced Waite eleven in the last game of the year.

Joe Lackey, high scoring halfback, scores the first touchdown of the game.

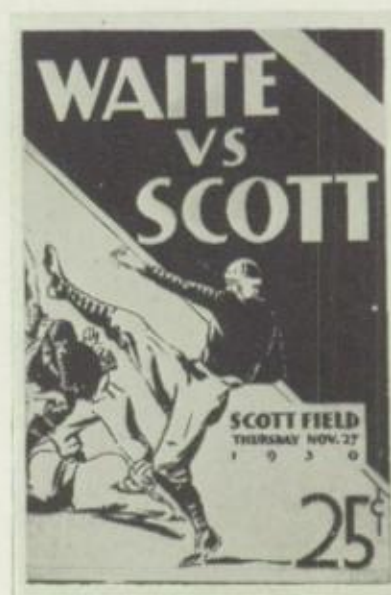

The Thanksgiving Day Game

Mixing a highly successful passing attack with a consistent running game, Scott defeated Waite 19 to 2 in the seventeenth annual meeting of these two schools in the Scott stadium with the thermometer hovering around the zero mark. Scott's supremacy was clearly shown as they piled up eighteen first downs of the nineteen made, and successfully completed thirteen passes. Scott first scored after a series of line bucks and forward passes had carried the ball 60 yards. Lackey caught a short pass to step over the goal line. To start third quarter Scott marched for two precious touchdowns in quick succession. Without the loss of the ball the team carried the oval to the one yard line from where Martin scored. The final touchdown came as a result of two long passes with Lackey scoring from the one-yard line. Although the victory was achieved through perfect co-ordination, nevertheless there were outstanding performers in the green and white uniforms. Martin, at fullback, gave a convincing exhibition of his ability until carried off the field. Scouten's work on the line stood out as a jewel, and the two ends, Zeitler and Robens, left little to be desired either on offense or defense.

Whatever the varsity football team lacked in the way of a football championship, the lightweight football team of Scott High School had. The lightweights won the city championship by the peculiar feat of winning only two of the four games played against intra-city reserve football teams. The Scotters tied both the Woodward and the Waite Reserves, but defeated the Central and the Libbey Reserves. The game that eventually gave them the championship was the well earned victory over Libbey, a game they wanted to win so as to even the defeat the varsity had been handed by the Libbey varsity. The lightweight eleven was defeated by a heavier and more experienced Witmer High School Team. The Scotters played good football throughout the season, and they deserved the honor of a city championship.

Swimming CITY CHAMPIONS

Scott High School's first swimming season, after the sport had been abandoned for a number of years, was extremely successful. The team was captained by Gordon Adams, an accomplished aquatic star, who led the team to a city championship and victories in several dual meets. In their first meet of the year the strong Scott team easily defeated Ypsilanti 53 to 22, by scoring a first in each event. The only defeat which the Scott natators suffered was administered by Sandusky 40 to 35. The meet was close all the way, but Sandusky's advantage of performing at home proved too great a handicap for our boys. Once again Scott defeated Ypsilanti, this time 45 to 30. In another return engagement Scott defeated Sandusky 40 to 35. The meet was a toss up until the last event which Scott easily copped. The following Thursday the city meet was held. Scott literally swam away with the championship. The Scott swimmers captured first in every event, thus scoring 62 points as compared with Waite's 21, Libbey's 14, and Woodward's 9. As a reward for this wonderful showing the team journeyed to Cleveland for the district meet. There the Scotters placed third with 15 points, as two boys, Adams and Ray Greene, hung up new state records in the 100-yard back and 100-yard breast strokes respectively. Once again the team performed splendidly by scoring in each event, totaling in all 15 points, and finishing third in the state swimming meet. Adams again set a new state record in the 100-yard back stroke to win his event. Greene placed second in the breast stroke, while Miller finished fourth in the free style event, and the medley relay team composed of Bailey, Green, and Miller finished second to bring the season to a successful ending.

Varsity Basketball

The Scott basketball aggregation went through its schedule of twelve games with eight victories chalked up compared to the four defeats registered against it. Scott defeated Hudson, Scott Alumni, and Deshler to start the season. The Alumni battle was the only game in which the cagers were taxed to win. Captain Mewhart and Mollenkamp were the consistently high scorers in these games. The following week our boys suffered a setback at the hands of Central early in the season. With Mewhart and Zeitler leading the way the team trimmed Dayton Stivers and St. John's on successive Saturdays. Scott easily defeated Archbold only to lose to Waite the following night, as Holland's scoring was a little too much to be matched by Scott. The Scott quintet won a close hard-fought game with Battle Creek. Scott dropped the next two games to Libbey and Springfield after holding a lead early in both games. Whatever the Scotters lacked in their other intra-city battles they more than made up by beating Woodward in the final game of the year, after Woodward had been picked to win the city championship. "Hokey" Mollenkamp led the Scotters in scoring with 65 points, nosing out Don Mewhart by one point. "Scotty" Florence collected 40 points.

Lightweight Basketball

The 1931 edition of the Scott High School Lightweight Basketball Team played a good brand of basketball and was deserving of the small amount of glory that it received. This year the team was composed largely of lower classmen, who will produce splendid material for the varsity teams next year and the year after. The lightweights were defeated only three times during their schedule of nine hard games. The fighting temperament displayed by the team together with their willingness to work hard for their games was instrumental in their success. The lightweights met each reserve quintet in the city, and they came out of these battles with three victories against two defeats. The team defeated Central, St. John's, and Libbey cagers only to be upset by the teams from Waite and Woodward. Jackson Township was the only out-of-town team to defeat the Scotters. The lightweights marked up decisions over Ida, Rudolph, and Lambertville High School Teams. In their battle for points the lightweights were led by no other than their captain, as Dale Fisher connected for a total of 33 points, closely followed by Steinberg with 28 and Zweifel with 24 points.

NORTHWESTERN OHIO CHAMPIONS

Scott once again repeated the success of other years in track by winning numerous dual meets, and either placing high or winning in all meets. In their first meet of the year the Scott team captured the Indoor Relay Carnival for the fourth year in succession by totaling 48 points. Two new records were set: one by Glickert in the high jump, and the other by the Scott Upper Classmen Relay Team. Scott easily defeated Fostoria in the first dual meet $72\frac{1}{2}$ to $13\frac{1}{2}$ by scoring slams in numerous events. The team continued its good work when they downed Mansfield $77\frac{1}{2}$ to $8\frac{1}{2}$, featured by Scott capturing ten firsts to one for Mansfield. The following week the thin-clads placed third in the

CHESTER HENDERSON

Michigan Indoor Interscholastic Meet out of a field of forty schools. Glickert, Lowry, Stone, Gray, and the crack relay team were the point earners. In one of the hardest fought dual meets of the year Scott again defeated Mansfield 62 to 48, with Glickert, Moor, Gray, and Stevelberg turning in the best performances. The following week the Scotters traveled to Defiance where they were nosed out in the final event for the championship. At the Carnegie Tech Invitational Meet the Scott Tracketeers came through to win for the second year in succession. Scott gathered points in all but two events, as Lowry, Glickert, Moor, Gray, Seth, Sampson, and Freese turned in good performances. This meet marked the peak of the track season, because of the splendid form of the entire team. On the same day, the second varsity engaged the Woodward Track Team and emerged victors 82 to 43. With only half a week of rest Scott captured the city meet by totaling 59 points, more than the combined total of Libbey and Waite. Sampson, Freese, and Lowry set new meet records. Three hard meets in one week proved too much for the boys, and as a result they placed only third in the Michigan Outdoor Interscholastic Meet. The Scotters walked away with the Northwestern Ohio District Meet by totaling 76½ points. Lowry, Cook, and Glickert set new meet records; nevertheless the victory was possible because of the all around power of the team. At the state meet Scott placed fourth. Glickert, Freese, and Moor earned most of the points. As a reward for their fine work throughout the season Coach Dave Brown took Glickert, Freese, and Lowry to the National Meet at Chicago in which they competed against the best boys in the nation. Glickert tied for first in the high jump while Lowry and Freese placed seventh in the pole vault and quarter-mile respectively.

Cross Country

At the Ohio State Cross Country Meet held November 16, 1930, the Scott Cross Country Team gave a fine account of themselves by placing fourth against participants from all the major high schools in Ohio. The race was two and one-half miles in length over the Ohio State University Cross Country track at Columbus. Bellows led the team to the finish with Sampson, Coates, Fuller, and Erkert following in order.

After a rather poor start the Scott Baseball Team finished the season a close second in the high school baseball league. In the first game Scott easily defeated Central 9 to 3, as Wendt led the Scott attack with three long hits. Libbey defeated Scott in the next game 1 to 0 after eleven innings of splendid baseball. Scott lost to Waite in another extra inning game 4 to 3. Scott rallied in the last inning to tie the score only to have Waite win in the ninth. With the batters hitting timely Scott swamped Central 14 to 3. Once again Libbey beat Scott, 7 to 4. Raudabaugh with three hits was the star of the game.

DON BREWSTER

After held scoreless for four innings, Scott crashed through with four runs in the last two innings to take another close game from Waite 4 to 3. The following Saturday Scott played in the Northwestern Ohio District Tournament. After Scott defeated Defiance 7 to 1, they lost to Waite in the finals 2 to 0, Molnar holding them to two hits. In the next league game Scott trimmed Central 18 to 3. Brewster was the heavy hitter with three doubles. With Florence pitching steady ball and the batters hitting at opportune times Scott defeated Libbey 10 to 5. In the last game of the season Scott lost a chance to tie Libbey for the championship by losing to Waite 11 to 7. During the season Wendt led the batters with a .323 percentage closely followed by Henry with .321 and Raudabaugh with .317. "Scotty" Florence carried the pitching burden with four wins against two defeats.

The Scott Golf Team tied for third place in the city golf league, after the last putt was sunk. This year the matches were played over the Ottawa Park Golf Course. This season, more than ever before, the class of golfers in competition was extremely high, for the winners finally emerged the state scholastic champions. Scott started the season with the return of only a few boys, but after a little practice gave all the teams a good stiff match. With the return of Captain Navarro and several other good players, the outlook for next season is bright.

Cheer Leaders

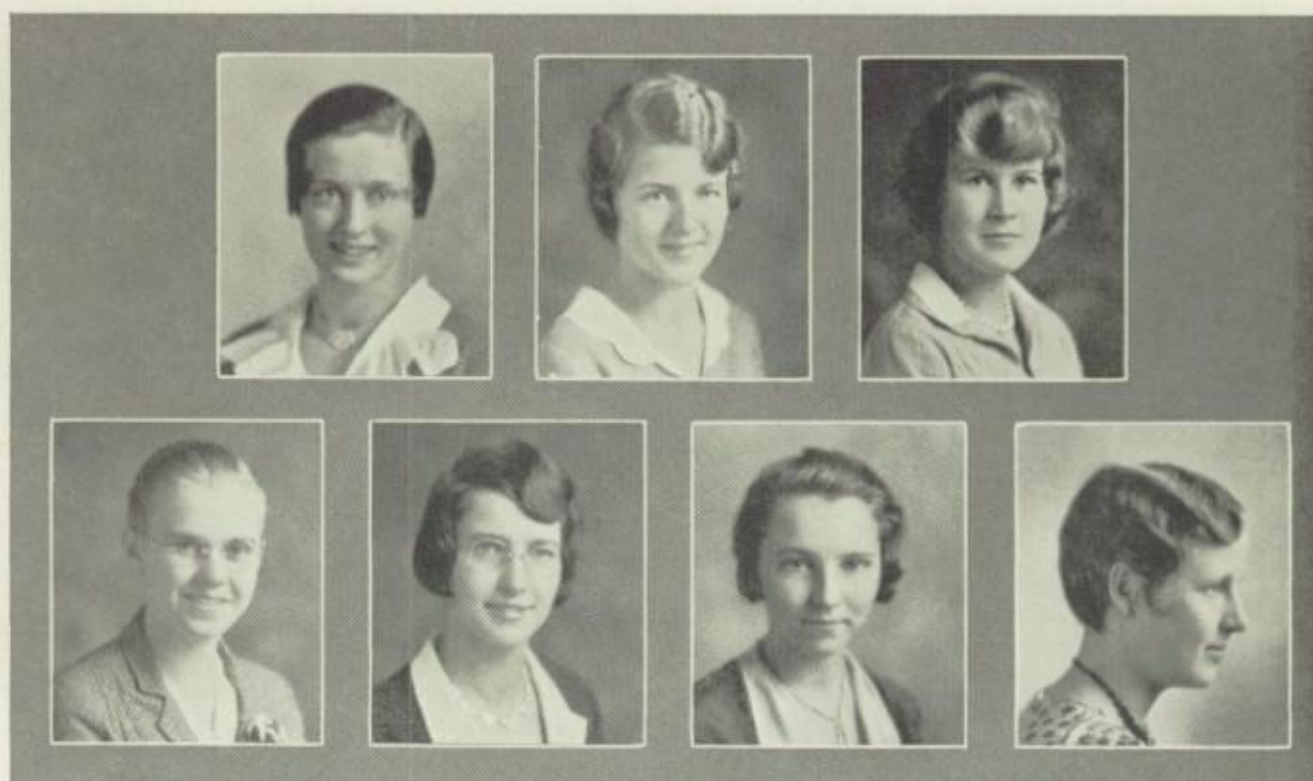

A great deal of enthusiasm and enjoyment of a football game depends upon the cheer leader. Coaches agree that with a cheering student body the team will play a better game. The cheer leaders are the ones who make this possible. They must know the right time to give a yell, how it can best be presented in the most effective manner, and the correct yell to give. All of these things can be developed only through experience.

This year Jimmy Kressler and Bill Schultz, each with two years of experience, very successfully carried out their assignments of cheers. Next year only Jimmy Kressler will be left to carry on this work, but with his talent and experience we are sure that he will make a success of it.

Austin Hall who has been the head cheer leader for the last two years, proved that from his four years' experience as a cheer leader he had learned many fine tricks of the art. Austin was always prompt at all games, and he handled the cheering at the mass meetings always in his same fine style. This year he arranged a new cheer from a similar one at Northwestern University that will be kept as a featured Scott yell for many years to come. Here it is:

WELL . . . Well well
 So this is Libbey?
 Oh HE . . . LL . . . O Libbey!
 HEL . . LO Libbey!
 Scott High says
 HELLO!!!!

The Girls' Athletic League offers a varied and interesting program in athletics for girls. Every girl who takes part in an after-school sport becomes a member of this league. Different sports are offered for each season. The principal fall sports are hockey for juniors and seniors, and volley ball for freshmen and sophomores. In November basketball occupies the limelight; and in the spring baseball and tennis interest a great number. Swimming is an important sport throughout the year. The girls' Wednesday and Friday classes are divided into three groups: beginners, intermediate, and advanced. In these swimming classes are taught the rudiments of swimming and diving, and in the advanced group, lifesaving.

The League has also been active socially, having given an attractive mixer, the Scott Steamship Shuffle, and having entertained the Girls' Athletic Leagues of Waite, Woodward, and Libbey at a get-together in the gym and a splash party in the Scott pool.

FALL SPORTS

Field hockey was very enthusiastically supported last fall by Scott junior and senior girls. Madalyn Bricker and Eloise Rabbe were elected team captains. Besides the regular play, individual tests in stickwork were given to test and improve the skill of the players.

About ninety freshmen and sophomore girls reported for volley ball. Team captains chosen by the girls were Agnes Raudabaugh, Charity Wernert, Ruth Krieder, and Ann Kelly. In the tournament finals Agnes Raudabaugh's team defeated Ruth Krieder's team for the championship.

Girls' Letters

All girls have an opportunity to work for a Scott "S". These awards are based on sportsmanship, scholarship, leadership, and athletic skill. Letter candidates work on a point system and only those few having the prescribed number of points receive their letters.

The following received the coveted award last year:

 Eloise Rabbe

The girls' physical educational meet, which consisted of stunts, games, and dances, was held on April 29, in the gym. At this meet this year's letter winners received their awards, and the junior basketball team, captained by Hilda Morse, was presented for the second time with a silver plaque for their winning of the basketball tournament.

Intramurals

This year much progress was made in intramurals at Scott. To start the huge program a basketball league was formed in which only freshmen and sophomores were eligible to play. The league was handled in fine style through its own organization of which Robert Jones was president and Don Beroset secretary. Each team was named for a big-ten college. Captained by Ed Straka "Ohio State" won the title in the first half of the season with 14 victories and only one defeat. "Michigan" finished second with 11 won and 4 lost. The teams were completely reorganized to start the second league. In this league "Northwestern," captained by Tom Chilcote, finished in first place with 8 games won and 2 lost, closely followed by "Wisconsin," "Illinois," and "Ohio State" with each winning 7 and losing 3 games. Members of both the winning teams were presented with silver medals. To climax this large intramural program a club tournament was held in which fourteen teams were entered. Scores of the first round: Demosthenians 26, Glee Club 20; Engineers 24, Websters 5; Senior Hi-Y B 25, Sophomore Hi-Y 12; Philatelics 33, Senior Hi-Y A 18; Junior Hi-Y 48, Torch Club 8; Aviation 21, Faculty 17. Scores of the quarter-finals: Engineers 16, Demosthenians 12; Senior Hi-Y B 22, Varsity S Club 8; Philatelics 27, Junior Hi-Y 17; Aviation 24, Radio 6. In the semi-finals the Senior Hi-Y B easily defeated the Engineers 35 to 11, while in an exciting game the Aviation Club defeated the Philatelics 34 to 30 although 16 points behind at the start of the last period. In the final game for the championship the Aviation Club defeated the Senior Hi-Y B team 26 to 19. The aviators jumped into an early lead of six points, but by the half the Hi-Y led 17 to 10. In the second half the flyers held the Hi-Y to two points, while tallying 16 to win the tournament and medals. On the Aviation team were Robert Jones, Robert Berger, Wesley Zweifel, Tom Garrison, Edward Straka, and Charles Navarro.

ORGANIZATIONS

The automobile, in spite of its rapid development and widespread use, has not supplanted former methods of transportation, but rather supplemented them. Useful as well as pleasure-giving, it has enriched the lives of many people.

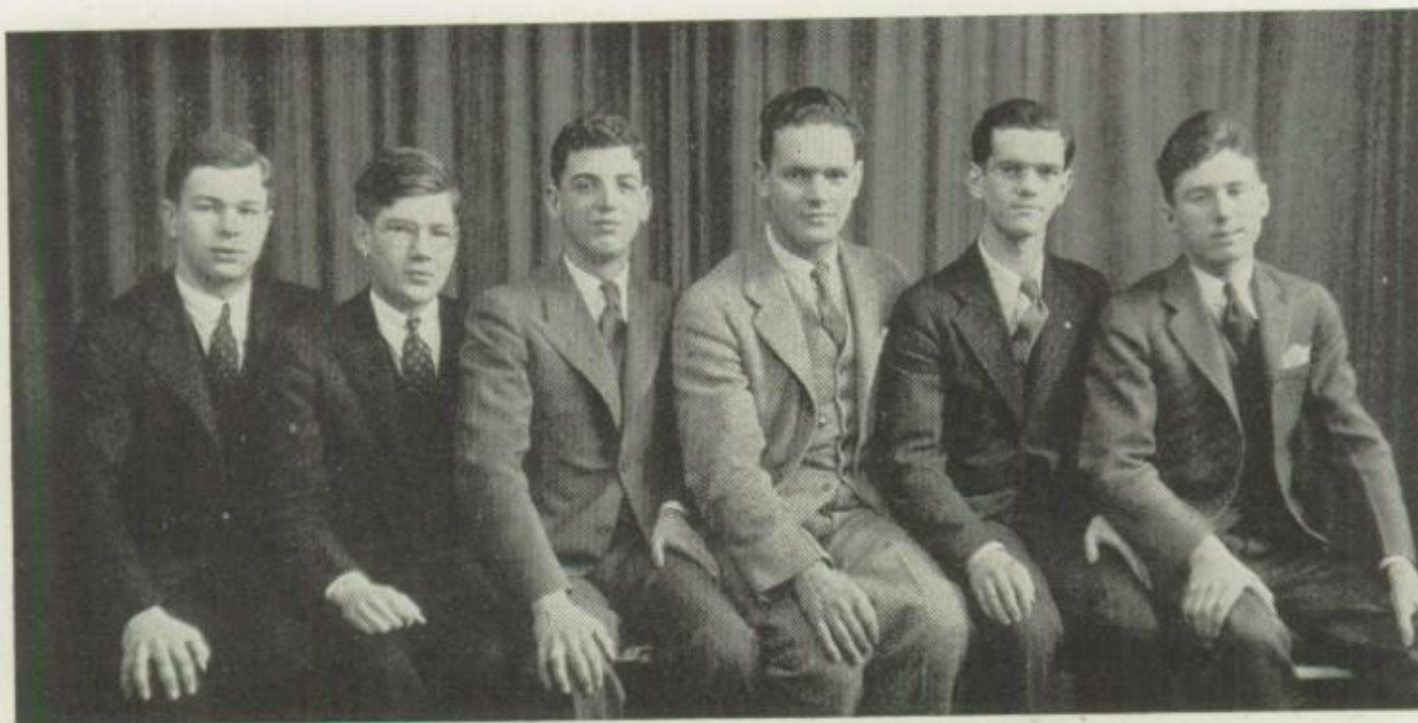

GREETINGS TO THE NEW ORGANIZATIONS!

We take this opportunity to welcome the organizations which have been formed at Scott during the past year: the Thalia Literary Society, the Creative Writing Club, and the French Club. We hope that they may enjoy steady progress and contribute greatly to training in initiative, in leadership, in cooperation, and to an increased respect for scholarship.

These new organizations have been aided in their initial meetings by Mr. Kirk, the director of extra-curricular activities. He has labored unceasingly to improve the work of all clubs. It was Mr. Kirk who developed the present system of meetings which makes the activities period more effective.

Under his enthusiastic guidance and with the assistance of the advisers, the new organizations should certainly prove a great asset to the school.

THE Demosthenian Literary Society has experienced a successful year. Attendance has been very steady and the spirit shown in acquiring new members has been of the highest.

The present leaders are chiefly seniors. They, realizing the need of new members to take their places, wisely took steps to interest freshmen and sophomores in their organization. The result is gratifying and augurs well for our future prosperity.

Under the able leadership of our president, Osborn Rosevear, who refused to become discouraged, the Demosthenians in the last two years have weathered the storm and are once more going strong.

Such leadership will be missed, but can best be appreciated by the rest of us continuing the work he has begun.

Philaethean Literary Society

As we draw to the close of a very successful year we pause for a moment to think of the gay and exciting times we have all had together.

Our programs during the year were very unusual. We lifted for a brief period the curtain of history, and many famous American women honored us with their presence, taking us from our everyday life and giving us a glimpse of the glamorous days of early American history. We held a joint meeting with our sister Phils from Libbey. At our Christmas meeting we presented a play written by Judith Tom. Our Mothers' and Daughters' Tea brought to a close a year of delightful programs.

We gave a very successful bridge in November at La Salle and Koch's. Tradition was broken this year when the Demosthenians and the Philaetheans combined to give a spring dance. Our social affairs were most entertaining due to our energetic social chairman, Geraldine Morrow.

So much of our success was due to our untiring advisers, Miss Humphrey, Miss Crane, Miss Kirkby, and Miss Masten, and to our very able censors, Judith Tom and Dorothy Stitzer.

Now on the threshold of our thirty-fifth year, let us stop and wish the oncoming Phils all the success possible.

Periclean Literary Society

As this year draws to a close we Pericleans look back upon it with much regret. The seniors now about to leave have only memories of the good times, the fine friendships made, and the enjoyable meetings in which they had a large part.

One of our projects this year was the mass-meeting which we sponsored early in the second semester.

Among our social events were the Christmas meeting with the Phils, the joint meeting with the Peris from Waite, Libbey, and Woodward, our annual banquet, and the farewell party.

To our advisers, Miss Beck, Miss Taylor, Miss Barkdull, and Mrs. Schwenke, who gave us untiring support throughout the year, we owe the deepest appreciation. To Mr. Kirk the society also extends its thanks.

In the years to come we seniors will look back with fondness and pleasure upon our work done in the Periclean Literary Society.

OVERCOMING a considerable degree of disorganization experienced at the beginning of the year, the Websters have won through to what promises to be a successful chapter in the history of this venerable Scott club. With Mr. Lake as an active and interested adviser, plans for enlarging and strengthening the club during the second semester went forward unceasingly.

As part of the contribution to the good of the school, which the Websters believe should be made by all Scott clubs, a booklet containing the condensed and essential rules of parliamentary law was printed and distributed free to all school organizations.

The annual Webster banquet, at which officers were elected for the following year, was carried out according to tradition and furnished the climax of the year's activities.

THE Scott Radio club has completed its seventeenth year. Our present success has been attained through the cooperation of the members and the fine work done by the officers and committees.

The purpose of the club is to stimulate interest in radio and to draw the Scott enthusiasts into a closer group. This is accomplished through talks and other programs at the meetings.

As a special project this year, the club sponsored a mass meeting. The program, arranged by a committee headed by Floyd Shearer, was enjoyed by everyone who attended.

A great deal of credit for the success of the club this year goes to the help and guidance of the club adviser, Mr. Kiker, and to the chairmen of the various committees. These chairmen were Parker Robinson, Norm Sommerville, and John Spooner.

THE Euclidean Mathematical Society greatly augmented its membership early in the year by an intensive drive for new members. These were chosen from those students in Scott High who showed the most promise in the field of mathematics.

From this new talent and the members already in the club, the censor was able to arrange interesting programs for the meetings. Following each of these programs, an open discussion was held. In this way, the purpose of the society, which is to give the members a chance to become acquainted with branches of mathematics not touched upon in class, was accomplished.

At the first meeting, the club elected Miss Crane as the new adviser, and was benefited throughout the year by her splendid and helpful suggestions and criticisms.

Several outside speakers were procured, and the club visited various Toledo factories, in order to become better acquainted with the practical applications of such mathematical knowledge as is acquired in school.

The entire membership was present at the banquet which is an annual event of the Euclidean Mathematical Society.

THE Junior Fasces was founded in 1914. Its purpose is to furnish a background for our class reading in Latin. During the present year with this in view we have discussed the city of Rome, Roman political institutions, and Roman customs such as education, dress, amusements, food, commerce, and religion.

Among the social functions were a play, "The Roman School," given in Roman costumes and directed and presented by the club members and also an afternoon dance given in the gym.

One of the most interesting programs of the year was a talk by Miss Lewis of the Latin Department.

We have enjoyed a very successful year under our competent advisers, and have benefited greatly by being members of this club.

THE Fasces Society was founded in 1914 under the name of Societas Ciceronis. The name was changed to Senior Fasces Society the following year. Its purpose has always been to enrich the Latin course by making students familiar with Roman life and customs and with the lives of the great Roman writers.

This year we were greatly honored to have as speaker Miss Jennie Lewis, who told us about the Vergilian Cruise of which she was a member last summer. At another meeting a very interesting portrayal of a Roman wedding was presented by members. Early in the spring the Senior Fasces sponsored a showing of the motion picture, "Julius Caesar," before the assembled Latin Department.

A large part of the success of our projects has been due to the guidance and helpful suggestions of Miss Ryan. We wish to express to her our appreciation for the aid she has rendered us.

THE Sophomore Hi-Y had a highly successful year. The members have cooperated in a fine way, and the officers have been very faithful in directing the affairs of the club. Much of this success has been due also to the patient advice and wise counsel of Mr. R. D. "Doc" Miller, representative of the Y. M. C. A., and Mr. E. F. Baum, our faculty adviser. Although Mr. Baum has been associated with the Hi-Y during this year only, his work has been of great value to the club.

We sponsored a Fathers' and Sons' Mixer and assisted at the Freshman Mixer which was given by the Hi-Y Clubs.

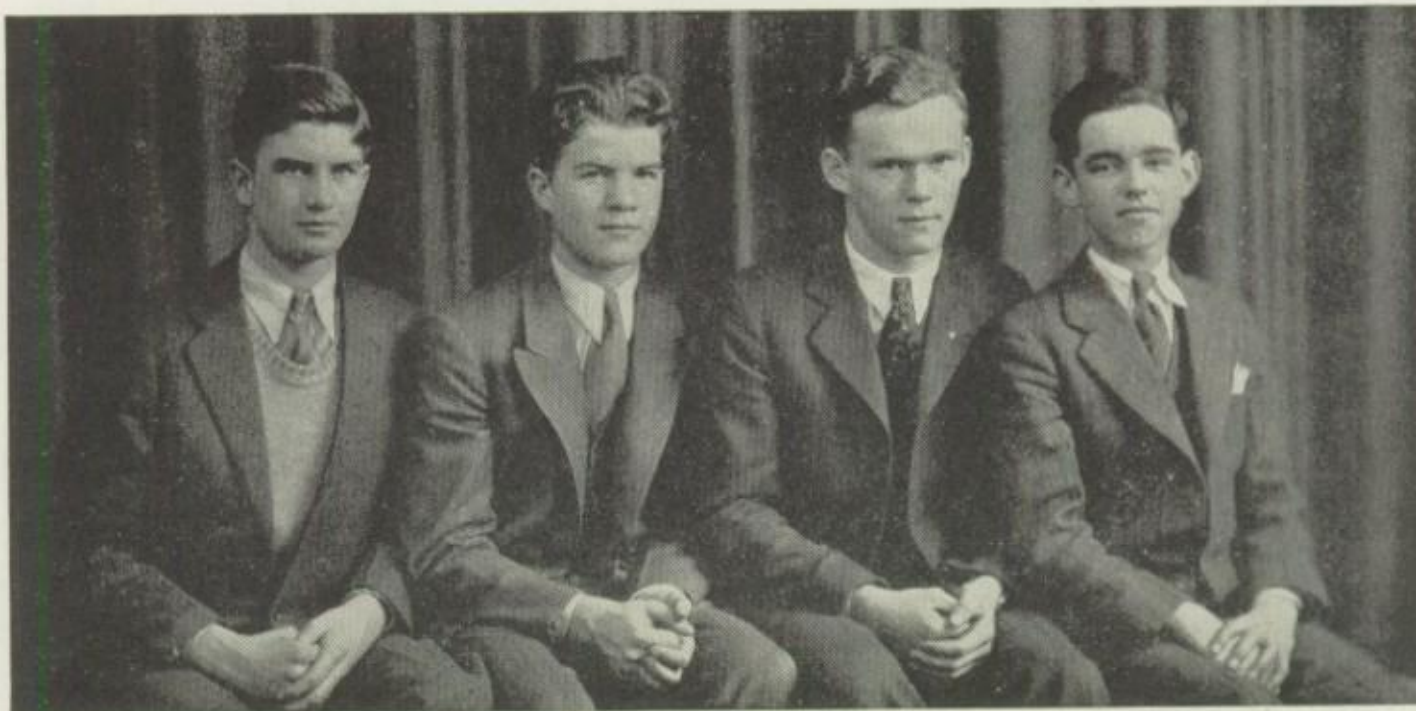

The speakers, discussions, and business sessions have made the club meetings very interesting, and the members have profited greatly from them.

Junior Hi-Y

ROUNDING out its first full year as a separate and individual organization, the Scott Junior Hi-Y has established a worthy precedent for future members to follow. Many projects of note were carried through to completion this year. Among our speakers were Mr. Reed Brigham, Milo Warner, and P. B. Williams, who shed light on problems of youth and today.

As part of the $350 to be raised by Toledo Hi-Y clubs to bring a foreign boy as delegate to the International Hi-Y Conference at Toronto this summer, the Junior Hi-Y Club in conjunction with the other Scott Hi-Y's promoted the mass-meeting which more than provided Scott's quota. A large delegation from the club attended the annual Older Boys' Conference at Van Wert, Ohio, in December. Joint sponsorship with the Senior Club of the Annual Vocational Guidance Dinner, and a series of athletic events in the spring completed the year's calendar.

Senior Hi-Y

MEMBERS of the Senior Club have many reasons to feel that the work this year has been very fine. With a pledge to "create, maintain, and extend throughout the school and community high standards of Christian character," the boys have had opportunities to express themselves through service in many ways.

Early in the year the usual Freshman Mixer was promoted in order to get new students acquainted with Scott. The big job of sponsoring the Annual Vocational Guidance Campaign was handled in good fashion by the various committees. Senior and junior boys always welcome this great opportunity for obtaining interviews with prominent business and professional men of Toledo. At a mass-meeting sponsored by the club in February over one hundred dollars was raised to meet Scott's share of the expense of bringing a delegate from a foreign country to the International Hi-Y Convention at Toronto in 1931.

At the various conferences held during the year in Ohio the Senior Hi-Y was always well represented. The club has shown a fine spirit of willingness to work and the leadership of its advisers and officers has been helpful and efficient.

Engineering Society

THE Engineering Society has again completed a successful year. The strength of the society we attribute to our predecessors who set for us a high standard.

Talks on technical and engineering subjects have been given by members at each meeting. We have also taken inspection trips to plants and have visited recent engineering projects. Perhaps our outstanding trip was the one to Detroit where we inspected the Union Trust Building and the Detroit-Windsor Tunnel. At both places we were shown the tremendous heating and ventilating systems used. Among our social activities were our annual dance and banquet.

We wish to express to Mr. Dunn and Mr. Stalker, our advisers, our grateful appreciation for their help throughout the year. We who are leaving this year wish for the society increased activity and success.

Scott Alchemist Society

THE Scott Alchemist Society was formed eight years ago for students who desired further knowledge of chemistry and physics.

This year we had many talks given us by the members, and we visited some of the various concerns which will help us in a scientific way.

A Christmas party given at the Close Shelter House was enjoyed by all the members. The most important event, socially, was the Ion Hop which the society gives annually with Waite, Libbey, and Woodward. Other social activities were held during the year.

The society has had a happy and prosperous year, and we hope our successors will fulfill the purpose of the club as we have endeavored to do.

The Scott Library Association

THE Scott Library Association, founded in 1925 by Miss Ada Ritchie, was reorganized in 1929. Meetings are held every other Tuesday.

The year 1931 has been one of progress built upon the foundation established by the cooperation of the members of the Library Association and by our advisers, Miss McGuinness, Miss Wiseley, and Miss Caughey.

The first project of the year was a review of "Roosevelt and Taft" by Archie Butt, given by Mrs. Paul Alexander. The second project was the welfare work done by the Library Association at Christmas time. The funds obtained on Tag Day were used to secure a charging desk for the library.

The purpose of this association is to foster the appreciation of good literature among the members and students through the use of the library.

Junior Friendship Club

During 1930-1931 the Scott Junior Friendship Club has acquired an unusually large list of faithful members through its open membership plan. This year has been an especially successful one from the standpoint of social and charitable projects also.

To begin the year we gave a Freshman Circus Mixer, on which occasion the gym was transformed into a circus ring. One side of the floor harbored such fantastic sights as a patchwork elephant, a bearded lady, an ape-man, a trained seal, and a snake charmer. Our most outstanding social success was the Jail Jig which drew a surprisingly large crowd to the gym. During the football season the Friendship Club sponsored the sale of "Scott Hi Forever." We entertained a group of orphans from the Miami Children's Home at an Easter party in the refectory. However our charities were not all at home. At Christmas time each member sent a present to an Indian boy or girl.

The advisers whose guidance has helped to make this year such a successful one are Miss Smead, Miss Krueger, Miss Gerding, Mrs. Featherstone, and Miss Kirkby.

Senior Friendship Club

THE year 1930-1931 has been one of interest to the Senior Friendship Club. Through the cooperation of the Y. W. C. A. and the members themselves many projects of social service have been accomplished. The Miami Home orphans and a group of Western Indians have benefited from the fellowship work. A Mothers' and Daughters' Tea climaxed the numerous events of the year.

The projects of the year have been developed under the heading "Wings". Through the future advisership of Miss Wachter and Miss Gerding, the club hopes to accomplish equally as much in the coming years.

The Alpha Sigma Epsilon Dramatic Society

THE Alpha Sigma Epsilon Dramatic Society was founded in 1926 for the purpose of studying the drama and presenting one-act plays.

The name of the society stands for the three Greek dramatists, Aeschylus, Sophocles, and Euripides.

This year the society gave the library magazines devoted to the drama in an effort to further interest in dramatics at Scott. At Thanksgiving and Christmas, baskets were filled for the poor.

"The Ghost Story," a one-act play by Booth Tarkington, was presented at a mass-meeting. During the first semester the club attended the Libbey production, "The Trojan Legend." A week or so after school opened in the fall a party was given for the alumni of the club. Throughout the year members have enjoyed the spreads which have been given at the homes of the members. Membership in the society is limited to twenty-five juniors and seniors of high scholastic standing.

Scott Aviation Society

Motto

Further aviation activities in Scott

THE purpose of the Aviation Society is to promote an interest in aviation. We study airplane design and construction as well as build many model planes.

The first semester went rather slowly due to the fact that we had a meeting only every other week. Robert Raker was president, until he left school. We gave a very successful dance in the gym with Harold Schwimmer as chairman of the dance committee.

The second semester has gone very smoothly. We held model airplane races and contests. The winners of the contest then took part in a joint meet with Scott and Libbey. Two dances were given this semester. One, our second annual Spring Frolic, was held in the gym. The other dance was a joint affair with the Scott, Libbey, and Woodward aviation clubs. Jerry Nettleton talked to us at a mass meeting about his cross country flight.

Our success this year is due to the wonderful cooperation of the club as a whole and the splendid way that the various committees have completed their projects.

We are sure that those graduating this year will not lose interest in the club, but will return from time to time to take part in the club's activities.

THE main purpose of the Home Economics Club is to create sociability among the girls at Scott and to give the members a better outlook on household science. Any girl who has taken some home economics subject such as art, sewing, or cooking is eligible to membership. The club has no initiation. Many social functions which include spreads, parties, interesting talks, and moving pictures are held each year. Some of the projects carried on by the club during the year are the trimming of the Chrstitmas trees and the distribution of food and clothing to the needy. The biggest undertaking is the style show which is given in the spring.

We wish to thank Miss Jensen for the help she has given us in making this a successful year.

THE Music Study Guild has just completed its second successful year, a year long to be remembered for the excellent programs which have been presented due to the fine co-operation of its members. This club promotes interest in music among boys and girls at Scott who pursue it either as a hobby or as a future life work. It enables them to get together to study and hear good music and to know other students who have interests similar to their own.

This year the club has subscribed to a musical magazine and books for the library and has sent members to most of the concerts given during the season in Toledo.

The guest artist this year was Mrs. Mary Willing Megley.

The club wishes to express grateful appreciation to its adviser, Miss Mather, for her splendid help throughout the year.

DURING the school year the Philatelic Society has accomplished several things. In order to increase their knowledge of stamps and to add specimens to their collections, members have written to foreign countries including Haiti, Rio de Oro, Havana, Cuba, Panama, and St. John's, Newfoundland. The club has held a stamp auction every other Friday at the home of one of the members.

The club has a football team and a basketball team. The football team won five games and lost three, losing to Central Reserves and to Scott Reserves. The basketball team won fourteen games and lost one.

Credit for the success of the club is due Mr. Eberth, its adviser.

A MEETING of all freshman boys interested in organizing the Torch Club of 1930-1931 was held in the auditorium early in November, under the direction of the Hi-Y Clubs. After several short talks on the purpose of the club, the boys were asked to sign cards if they desired to become members.

Very interesting and beneficial meetings have been held at the Y. M. C. A. building on Thursday evenings. Probably the most exciting was the "Round Table." Although we did not win many of our athletic events, we had a great deal of fun.

All in all we have made some very fine friends whom we shall always cherish.

History Club

THE Scott History Club was founded in 1929 to provide opportunities for those students who are primarily interested in social science.

One of the most interesting topics the club studied this year was that of unemployment. The study was begun shortly after mid-year examinations when Mr. Harry Woolf, secretary of the Saturday Night Open Forum, talked on our economic and social development, stressing the point that our social progress had not kept pace with our industrial development. Miss Amy Maher, head of the Consumers League here in Toledo, next spoke on a compulsory unemployment insurance bill which was before the Ohio Legislature at that time. Shortly afterwards a number of members of the club attended an all day Legislative Conference at the Toledo Women Voters Club.

Several parties were given to promote friendship between the numerous new members and the few members from last year's club.

CIRCULO Espanol, more familiarly known as the Spanish club, was organized late in 1929 with the purpose of stimulating interest in the language and of making students of Spanish better acquainted with the customs of Central America, South America, and Spain.

The programs presented by the various members of the club consist of plays, talks, and songs given in Spanish, which is spoken exclusively during the meetings.

The members wish to thank Miss Caniff and Miss Bingham, advisers, for their able assistance in making 1930 a successful year.

The club has made rapid strides toward meeting its objectives, and looks forward to accomplishing even greater things.

The Scott German Club was organized in 1930 to acquaint students with the customs of Germany. The club, which is open to students having more than one year of German, has learned much through interesting talks and discussions.

At Christmas time, members of the club serenaded the various hospitals and institutions of Toledo with Christmas carols sung in German.

The successful and eventful year would have been impossible without the assistance of Mrs. Davis, our adviser, to whom we express our heartiest thanks.

THE Scott Science Club was organized to create a greater interest in science. The work undertaken has been interesting as well as intellectual.

The club was fortunate in securing Mr. Conant, educational director of the Toledo Zoo, to give talks on reptiles and mammals. Members visited the park and, with Mr. Conant as a guide, learned many interesting facts. Under his direction several of the members have been working on special projects.

During the months of April and May members went on several field excursions to study trees and birds.

THE Scott Art Club was organized in the spring of 1930. Its members must be students in the sophomore, junior, and senior art classes. Many of these students find that they are interested enough in the subject to continue after leaving high school. Some enter art schools and some immediately undertake work which requires a knowledge of art.

The purpose of the Art Club is to give its members a wide view of the scope of art as a cultural study and as a profession. To this end the programs include talks on art and architecture and visits to various business concerns which make use of art. These excursions have interested the members in lithography, in architecture, and in interior decorating.

In the spring and early fall, the club had a number of out-of-door meetings for landscape sketching, followed by supper in the open.

Thalia Literary Society

THERE has been a long felt need for more than two literary societies for Scott girls. Consequently a meeting was called by Mr. O. B. Kirk to determine the number of girls interested in forming such a society. The seniors present investigated the possibilities of such an organization, and at a later meeting a chairman was elected and a committee chosen to secure recommendations for members from the teachers. A temporary constitution was drawn up, committees appointed, and officers elected to serve the rest of the year.

Of great encouragement were the assistance offered and the helpful spirit shown by the other societies. Shortly after the officers were elected we were very pleasantly entertained by the Phils, whose president, Margaret Ann Morgan, presented our president with a gavel.

Much credit is due Miss Collins, our first adviser, for her help and interest, and Mrs. Schwenke, who was later chosen as an adviser.

French Club

THE Scott French Club was organized early in the second semester for the purpose of promoting further interest in the French language, people, and customs. Members were chosen from those students who had taken French. In the future members must have had at least one year of French and be really interested in the subject.

Meetings were first called under the supervision of Miss Bissell to determine the number of students interested in forming such a club. A constitution committee was appointed and at a later date officers were elected to serve the rest of the year. It was decided at that time that the meetings were to be conducted in French.

As its founders, the members are looking forward to the future success of the club.

THE Cosmopolitan Club was organized in Scott two years ago. It has a charter from the World League of International Education Associations, sponsored by the leading educators of the world. The purpose of the organization is to promote communication between high school boys and girls of all countries and thus to create an international friendship; to study and learn customs and manners of other countries; to be tolerant of other civilizations; to acquire a broad understanding and sympathetic views of international problems.

The members of the Cosmopolitan Club are, in a modest way, ambassadors of goodwill to foreign lands. Letters from France, Germany, Holland, and Turkey have been received and commented upon. At the meetings experienced travelers have presented interesting talks on other lands. During the Christmas holidays the club successfully provided a needy family with food and clothing.

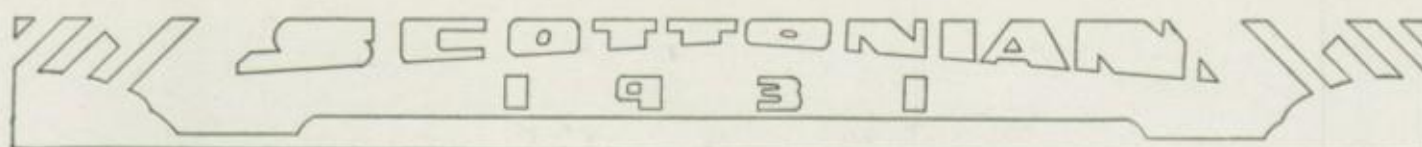

Scott was the first Toledo high school to have such an organization. The educational and social contacts enjoyed by its members have been very profitable.

A very beautiful simple country maid found that she had great difficulty in retaining her lovers due to the fact that she was more than extremely nearsighted. Determined, how ever, to keep her latest ardent admirer who was unaware of her handicap, she placed a needle in the trunk of a tree fifty yards from the usual bench on which evenings of this type were spent.

"Do you see that needle sticking in the tree over there?" she asked as she cuddled by his side. "Impossible," he exclaimed, "no pair of eyes even as beautiful as yours could see so small an object so far away."

"But my eyes are very keen," she shyly replied, "wait here. I'll go get it for you." On the way over she stumbled into two cows.

I miss our battered cuspidor
Said a little Phi Chi dear,
"Yeah," replied a brother
"You missed it when it was here."

Registrar:

Dear Sir:— I am the teacher of Joe Smart who, I understand, is applying for admission at your university this fall. My opinions regarding him are not of the highest, but I think you would do well in accepting him. He is not a good student, and his marks are poor. He is not popular and has few friends. His personality is negative, his appearance is sloppy and his wits are slow.

Very truly yours,

J. Hunny Junkle.

P. S. He was captain of his school's football team.

My Dear Mr.....

We appreciate your account of Joe Smart's remarkable record. In view of his high scholastic ability and all-round worth, we have decided to award him a scholarship of four years.

Very truly yours,

The Registrar.

Getting out this book is no joke.
If we print jokes, people say we are silly.
If we don't they say we are too serious.
If we clip things from other magazines,
We are too lazy to write them ourselves.
If we don't we are stuck on our own stuff.
If we stick too close to the job all day, we Ought to be out hunting up news.
If we do get out and try to hustle, we ought to be on the job in the office.
If we don't print contributions, we don't appreciate true genius.
And if we print them, the magazine is filled with junk.
If we make a change in another fellow's write-up, we are too critical.
If we don't we are asleep.
Now, like as not, some guy will say we swiped this from some other magazine.
Well, we DID!

And then of course there's the musical carpenter. He plays on the tuba four.

It seems that a widow, a flapper, and an old maid all lived in the same boarding-house and each had a date with a young high school chap one night.

The question arose as to which would be kissed the most. To decide the question, each on coming to the breakfast table the next morning was to say "good morning" for each kiss she had received.

Came the dawn!

The flapper came down first, blushing, and said very emphatically, "Good Mo-o-orn-i-n-g!" (She'd only been kissed once but that was enough!)

Enter the vivacious widow.

"Oh, Good morning, good morning, good morning. I want to tell everyone, good morning, good morning, etc., etc.!"

(What a woman!)

Enter the old maid, very dramatically. All were quiet—expectant.
"Hullo!"

Husbande: "Knowest thou how to bringge up thy childe?"

Wife: "Certainly, sluggarde."

Husbande: "Then snappe to, thy childe is at the bottome of ye cisterne."

Jack: "How does Bill like living in the apartment below those college girls?"

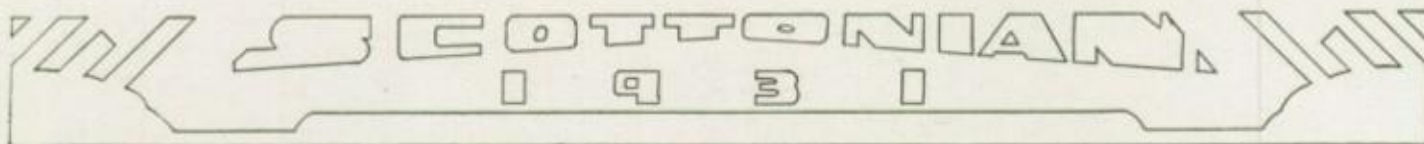

Tom: "I don't know. He says the women are wild over him!"

It was at the closing exercises of a city public school, and Marjorie was reading a composition of her own on "Grant's Work in the Civil War." She was getting along fine until she started to describe Lee's surrender.

"Lee," she said, "was handsomely attired in full uniform, while Grant wore an old ragged Union suit."

Mr. Baum: "I beg your pardon but what is your name?"

Jack Luscombe: "Name? Why don't you see my signature there on my paper?"

Mr. Baum: "Yes—that's what aroused my curiosity."

Miss Kirkby: "I'll give you one day to hand in that paper."
